further/different data:

for the purpose of confirming the data I provided in the context of (reason for the query, e.g. job application, visa, etc.) and that the University of Freiburg confirms this data to the requesting institution.

Information by e-mail

I also consent to this confirmation being transmitted electronically by the University of Freiburg (as data exporter) via unencrypted e-mail to the e-mail address provided by the requesting institution (data importer). This is done at my explicit request and on my initiative. I am aware that the University of Freiburg cannot guarantee the confidentiality of the content due to the unencrypted transmission by e-mail.

Recipient country

My consent also explicitly refers to the fact that the requested personal data may be transmitted from Freiburg, Germany to countries outside the European Union.

I am aware that the transfer of personal data to countries outside the European Union is subject to risk, unless there is an adequacy decision by the EU Commission pursuant to Art. 45 GDPR and suitable guarantees within the meaning of Art. 46 GDPR. In these cases, there is no level of data protection comparable to the European Union. The University of Freiburg cannot ensure that data protection regulations and data subjects' rights are guaranteed in a manner as they would be within the European Union. In particular, according to the regulations and political conditions applicable in the third country, security authorities, public prosecutors, narcotics authorities, intelligence services, etc. could gain access to my data without judicial or other independent control. This could result in risks with regard to confidentiality (e. g. disclosure to unauthorized parties or people), integrity (e. g. unauthorized modification) or availability (e. g. unauthorized deletion). I could suffer damage, for example due to identity theft, damage to my reputation, political persecution, necessary expenses or financial loss, loss of control over my own data or discrimination. The University of Freiburg cannot conclusively verify the legal data protection status at the location of the requesting institution.

Voluntariness of the consent

This consent is freely given. The requested confirmation will not be issued to the requesting institution without consent. Refusal to give consent has no further consequences at the University of Freiburg.

Withdrawal

The consent can be withdrawn at any time in the future by contacting the University of Freiburg (Datenschutz@uni-freiburg.de). The withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.
